

IS&T Guidelines for the ARCH2010 Conference Proceedings

Proceedings for this conference will be prepared directly from electronic copy submitted by authors to an online submission Website. The manuscript submission deadline is April 18, 2010. NO EXTENSIONS WILL BE GIVEN. Unlike in years past, papers not submitted by the deadline will not appear in the official conference proceedings. Information on the electronic submission process will be provided under separate cover.

The new process requires authors to upload a MS Word or LaTeX file directly to a Website where the document is turned into a PDF file, which is used in the printed product. As such, please note that authors are entirely responsible for the content of papers submitted for inclusion in the proceedings. IS&T will no longer proofread papers or check to make sure fonts and graphics reproduce well. This is the responsibility of the author.

To ensure a visually pleasing and technically accurate final product, authors must format their papers according to IS&T specifications as described below and found in the author template (link at bottom of page at www.imaging.org/conferences/guidelines.cfm). Please refer to the appropriate author template for specific details. Format highlights are noted below.

Page layout

- Paper size: US letter-size paper (8.5 in x 11 in or 21.6 cm x 27.9 cm).
- Left/right Margins: .75 inch (1.90 cm),
- Top/bottom Margins: 1.0 inch (2.54 cm).
- Two Column format: each 3.38 inches (8.57 cm) wide with a .25 inch (.635cm) gutter between them
- Please do not include headers, footers, or page numbers. Those will be added by IS&T when the book is assembled.

Length

- Papers should be 4 to 6 pages.

Template

- MS Word and LaTeX templates are available at www.imaging.org/conferences/guidelines.cfm
- Caution: Do not use prior versions of templates.

Fonts

- The only fonts that should be used in your document are Arial, Times, and Symbol. PostScript[®] Type 1 fonts are preferred, but True Type versions may be used. Use of other fonts may produce unpredictable results. Be sure to completely clear your document of any other fonts before formatting.
- Note to authors residing in Asia or using Asian software or fonts: Be especially careful to remove any double byte Asian fonts such as Ryumin Light, Century, and Heisei Mincho from both text and illustrations; files containing these fonts only display properly on computers equipped for the Japanese language.
- Be particularly careful when preparing illustrations. One of our biggest problems has been substitution of inappropriate characters when original fonts are unavailable. This is problem is most common in papers coming from countries with non-western character sets (Asian languages, Cyrillic, etc.)

Graphics

- Charts, graphs, and illustrations that are a single column in width are preferred, although two-column width is also acceptable.
- All figures must originally be saved as TIFF or EPS files and imported into the document and embedded there.
- Use Arial for table text as indicated in the style sheet.

- All lines in figures should be at least 1 pt. Do not use “hairline” as it doesn’t reproduce well.
- When designing figures, keep in mind that the book will be printed in black & white, although the online version and CD-ROM will appear in color. Thus, colors should reproduce well and be legible in black and white as well as color. A line graph, for example, should use dots and dashes instead of colored lines and avoid light colors such as yellow and blue.

Equations

- Equation text should be Times 9 pt, embedded in a single column. Number equations sequentially. Make sure to call them out in the text in a way that does not confuse them with references (see below).

References

- To accommodate a similar style for Word and LaTeX documents, IS&T style calls for references to be called out in the text using brackets, i.e., [12]. Do not create superscript references.

Please remember to:

- Obtain all necessary clearances and permissions for presentation and publication of your paper.
- Complete and return to IS&T the Copyright Agreement.

IS&T Copyright Agreement Information

IS&T's publications are read throughout the world, and we must respond to requests to reprinting, republishing, redistributing, digitizing, posting to servers, translating, anthologizing, and other actions. It is the policy of IS&T to own the copyrights on its technical publications to protect the interests of IS&T, its authors and their employers, and at the same time to facilitate the appropriate reuse of this material by others.

United States Copyright Law requires that the transfer of copyright of each contribution from the Author to IS&T be confirmed in writing. It is necessary that authors sign either Part A or Part B of the IS&T Copyright Agreement and return it with the manuscript to the address on the form.

If you are employed and you prepared your paper as part of your job, the rights to your paper may initially rest with your employer. In that case, when you sign the IS&T Copyright Transfer Form, we assume you are authorized to do so by your employer. If not, it should be signed by someone so authorized.

For jointly authored papers, an original signature is required from one (assumed senior) author only. However, we assume all authors have been advised and have consented to the terms of this form.

Authors who are U.S. government employees and/or whose papers are not copyrightable as part of certain Government contract work, are not required to sign Part A, but all co-authors outside the Government contract are.

Part B of the Form is to be used instead of Part A only if any or all authors are U.S. Government employees and they prepared the paper as part of their job, or the work is an uncopyrightable product of a Government contract.

IS&T authors have all the rights scientific authors have historically enjoyed, including the right to present orally the submitted or similar material in any form; the right to reuse in future works of the authors own with notice and credit to IS&T; the right to republish in any form of media with notice and credit to IS&T, in works published by the employer or for the employer's internal business purposes; the right to reproduce and distribute for peer review in reasonable quantities; and all proprietary rights other than copyright.

Although it is not part of IS&T's policy to grant authors or their organizations the sole right to approve permissions for republishing by third parties, IS&T always seeks the approval of its authors, for jointly authored papers the first-named (assumed senior) author only, in weighing such requests. This is done as a matter of professional courtesy.

A. Transfer of Copyright Agreement and Consent to Publish

Copyright to the above work (including without limitation, the right to publish the work in whole or in part in any and all forms of media, now or hereafter known) is hereby transferred to The Society for Imaging Science and Technology (IS&T) (for U.S. Government work, to the extent transferable *) effective as of the date of this agreement on the understanding that the work has been accepted for publication by IS&T. However, each of the Authors retain the following rights:

1. All other proprietary rights except copyright (and the publication rights transferred to IS&T), such as patent rights.
2. The right to reuse, without fee, in future works of the author's own provided the IS&T citation and copyright notice are included.
3. The right to post a personal copy on non-IS&T servers for limited noncommercial distributions, provided that the IS&T copyright notice is attached to the personal copy and that the server prominently displays a general policy notice about the use of copyright works it contains.
4. Employers who originally own the copyright may distribute copies of the works of their employees within the employer's organization.

This form must be signed by the author or, in the case of a "work made for hire," by the employer, and must be received by IS&T before processing of the manuscript for publication can be completed. Authors should understand that consistent with IS&T's policy of encouraging dissemination of information each published paper will appear with the following notice:

"Permission to make digital or hard copies of part or all of this work for personal or classroom use is granted without fee provided that copies are not made or distributed for profit or commercial advantage and that copies bear this notice and the full citation on the first page. Copyrights for components of this work owned by others than IS&T must be honored. Abstracting with credit is permitted. To copy otherwise, to republish, to post on servers or to redistribute to lists, requires prior specific permission and/or a fee."

The undersigned further agrees to pay a $200 (without a proceedings) or $250 (with a proceedings) fee to help offset the cost of publishing the noted paper should the paper be withdrawn any time after submission of the final manuscript or if the paper is not formally presented at the conference. No publication fee will be charged to authors whose paper is presented.
